DISTRICT 4 INFORMATION

District 4 is Central DeKalb. The diversity of its people is inclusive of residents from dozens of countries, speaking many different languages, practicing wide varieties of faiths, introducing countless new regional dishes and cultures, in all age groups and on all socio-economic and educational levels. Everyone is welcome, and there is familiarity within central DeKalb from every walk of life.

DEKALB COUNTY, GEORGIA COMMISSION DISTRICTS

The DeKalb County Board of Commissioners consists of seven members: five district commissioners representing approximately one-fifth of the county per member, and two “super district” commissioners representing roughly one half of the county apiece. The super districts overlap with regular districts, providing multiple representatives for every area of the county.

Autumn in Stone Mountain Park

Central DeKalb's beautiful parks and lively community centers host events year-round to unite our beloved communities.

Our green spaces and parks keep the area beautiful and quiet, allowing residents to connect with nature. Central DeKalb also has the Stone Mountain PATH trail. PATH trails enhance the experience of neighbors coming together to enjoy the peace and tranquility of nature walks, safely biking the whole way across DeKalb on the PATH, and having a beautiful place for children to get outside to play.

Georgia State University - Clarkston Campus

Central DeKalb has many established and thriving businesses and neighborhoods.

District 4 is home to Georgia Piedmont Technical College, Georgia State University's Clarkston Campus, Georgia Military College, and thousands of students preparing to enter the workforce with the skills needed for today's careers. Our proximity to Atlanta provides easy access to major interstates and highways, Hartsfield Jackson Airport, performing arts, museums, amphitheatres, and the MARTA system. Central DeKalb is also home to Stone Mountain Park, Georgia's most popular attraction, receiving visitors from across the globe.

Commercial Development in District 4

District 4 has business spaces and immense tracts of land available for growth.

Central DeKalb has tremendous potential as we embark on new development across District 4 and the County at large. Investors and developers are coming to DeKalb as their choice for business. Commissioner Bradshaw is dedicated to bringing out the best of Central DeKalb's live, work and play options.

DISTRICT 4 COMMUNITIES

Communities in District 4 enjoy many historical and natural resources – from the beauty of places like Stone Mountain Park to unique staples like Your DeKalb Farmer’s Market. In addition to unincorporated areas, District 4 has six large communities located in whole or in part within its borders: Avondale Estates, Clarkston, Pine Lake, Stone Mountain, Tucker, and Memorial Drive.

AVONDALE ESTATES

Avondale Estates is District 4’s most creative city. Named after William Shakespeare’s birthplace, the Tudor village of Avondale Estates is home to a thriving dining and arts scene – with the ArtLot, Towne Cinema shows and concerts, artisan shops, unique thrift stores and charity consignment stores, and year-round festivals and art walks, there is something for every type of art lover and an environment for every kind of artist to grow and thrive in. No visit to Avondale can be complete without a trip to the first Waffle House location and a quiet evening stroll around the beautiful and hidden Lake Avondale!

CLARKSTON

Clarkston is not only District 4’s most diverse city but may be America’s most diverse city. Time Magazine called Clarkston “the most diverse square mile in America!” Refugees from over 45 countries and speaking over 60 languages have settled in Clarkston over the past 25 years. This welcoming city boasts culture, compassion, and brains. With the city’s access to major highways and proximity to Atlanta, Georgia State Technical College and Georgia State University Clarkston Campus have named Clarkston their home base. Clarkston is also home to DeKalb County District 4 Commissioner Steve Bradshaw!

PINE LAKE

Pine Lake is District 4's smallest city, overflowing with eclectic character and home to numerous local and nationally known artists. This little city brings people together through monthly pancake breakfasts, annual festivals, small concerts, poetry readings, and art shows. Enjoy the laid-back vibes of this community by hiking around the lake, playing at the beach, and taking a stroll through the eco-friendly wetlands.

STONE MOUNTAIN

Stone Mountain is the oldest city in District 4 and home to Georgia's most popular attraction, Stone Mountain Park. Millions of visitors a year climb to the top of Stone Mountain to find breathtaking views of Atlanta, DeKalb County, and Gwinnett County, explore hiking trails through the scenic surroundings, and stay for the famous Lasershow Spectacular. Don't forget to stroll through Stone Mountain Village for delicious food and boutique shopping! Stone Mountain is a picturesque place to live, complete with gorgeous neighborhoods and an immense tree canopy. Stone Mountain's event calendar is filled with festivals, 5K runs, concerts, and community events all year long.

Serving as the District 4 County Commissioner for these unique cities has been my honor.

These cities are led by talented and committed leaders who advance their municipalities through creative economic development, arts, entertainment, and government transparency. I hold quarterly meetings with the mayors of DeKalb County, I know these fine people, and I am grateful to call them my friends.

Steve Bradshaw

STEVE BRADSHAW

Born in Charlotte, North Carolina to a military family – his father spent his career in the US Navy. He was also born into a religious family, as both of his grandfathers were pastors. Upon his father’s retirement from military service in 1977, the family moved to Savannah, Georgia, where Steve spent his formative years, graduating from Armstrong State College with a Bachelor of Arts in 1986. He joined the US Army as a Second Lieutenant and was trained as a tank commander. Over a seven-year military career, Steve served in various line and staff positions of increased responsibility, including service in the Middle East during the First Persian Gulf War. The military taught him sacrifice, discipline, and devotion to duty. He left the Army as a Captain in 1993 to pursue opportunities in the private sector.

Steve held several operations, management, and business development positions with companies including John Harland Company, Briggs Equipment, Spherion, and Delta Global Staffing – a subsidiary of Delta Air Lines. The private sector taught him flexibility and the importance of checking the numbers.

Steve earned his Master’s Degree in 1998 in Public Administration at Georgia State University and was invited to be an Adjunct Professor in the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies, teaching graduate and undergraduate-level courses. Being at the helm of the classroom taught him patience.

Steve has been engaged in the community for many years, serving on boards of directors for organizations including The Giving Tree (an adoption resource agency), The Clarkston Community Center, and Pride Rings in Stone Mountain (PRISM). He also served on the State Water and Wastewater certification board, and Governor Roy Barnes appointed his position.

Steve has been married to his wife, Diane, for 37 years, and they have called DeKalb County home for 31 years. He enjoys reading, playing golf, and watching his favorite professional football team, the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Steve was elected to the DeKalb County Board of Commissioners in 2016 with 89% of the vote. He was re-elected to the seat in November 2020 without opposition and was elected unanimously by his peers as the Presiding Officer of the Board of Commissioners in 2020 and 2021.

LEADERSHIP

Leadership is a multifaceted concept that encompasses various qualities and experiences. As I stand here today at the helm of District 4 in DeKalb County, I reflect upon my time in Georgia, where I've served, studied, and taught under and alongside the greats of leadership.

Reflecting on leaders I admire, one prominent figure is President Barack Obama, a trailblazer who served as the first African-American President of the United States. His tenure, marked by dignity and grace, exemplifies the challenges and triumphs of being a pioneer in any field. Obama's book, "A Promised Land," provides valuable insights into his leadership journey.

Another figure deserving of admiration is Colin Powell, who rose to become Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. His historic achievement inspired a generation of young officers, including myself, demonstrating that aspirations know no boundaries. Powell's "18 Leadership Lessons" offers timeless wisdom for leaders at all levels.

Lt. Gen. Nadja West, the first African American woman to attain the rank of three-star general and serve as Surgeon General of the Army, embodies perseverance and excellence. Having served alongside her during the First Persian Gulf War, I witnessed her dedication and foresight, which has propelled her to remarkable heights.

Esteemed author and historian, Jon Meacham provides invaluable perspectives on leadership and history. His works, including the biography of John Lewis and "The Soul of America," offer profound insights into the essence of leadership and the human experience.

Drawing from personal and professional experiences and insights from these leaders and others, I've distilled these fundamental principles into an axiom: 4C, 3S. Competence, confidence, courage, and compassion form the foundation, complemented by a sense of God, history, and humor. These qualities, along with self-sacrifice and "Chow Line Leadership," define effective leadership for me. In this spirit, leadership also entails restraint, as exemplified by refraining from impulsive reactions and maintaining clarity of intent. Embracing the privilege of leadership means carrying its mantle with integrity and humility, always mindful of its responsibilities.

Leadership is not just about authority but service, empathy, and vision. Indeed, I've got my sights set on a better DeKalb County for all.

It was my honor to serve as presiding officer from 2020-2022. I am grateful for the confidence my colleagues bestowed upon me to serve in this capacity.

FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY

Fiscal responsibility is a cornerstone of effective governance, involving careful planning, transparent decision-making, and the prudent management of public funds to ensure the well-being and sustainability of the community they serve.

COMMISSIONER STEVE BRADSHAW, CHAIR OF THE FINANCE, AUDIT, AND BUDGET COMMITTEE, HOSTED COMMUNITY MEETINGS ON THE PROPOSED 2023 DEKALB COUNTY BUDGET

Commissioner Bradshaw hosted three informational community meetings at libraries throughout District 4 with in-person and virtual attendees to review DeKalb County's proposed 2023 Budget.

Director of the Office of Management and Budget, T.J. Siegler, was on hand to present information and answer questions. Our first hybrid meeting in Stonecrest allowed constituents to engage in the budget process.

“As the newly appointed Chair of the Finance, Audit and Budget (FAB) Committee, I believe it’s a good exercise to hold community meetings across the county affording constituents an opportunity to engage in the budget process.”
– Steve Bradshaw

COMMISSIONER BRADSHAW'S ANNUAL RETURNS OF DISTRICT 4 OPERATING BUDGET DOLLARS TO THE GENERAL FUND

I am convinced that no matter how much money any given governmental entity may have, the need is always greater than the resources available.

I took my first budget vote in February 2017, and I do not mind admitting that the process was intimidating. As I approached the budgeting process, I drew from past experiences in business and in service and trusted my judgment. I believe that the elements within the 2017 budget helped set the stage for the improved fiscal situation that DeKalb County has experienced since then, through the Covid-19 pandemic, and today.

I give tremendous credit to CEO Michael Thurmond for moving us in this direction. I am proud to say that, as an elected official, I have been a thoughtful and responsible steward of taxpayer money, and will continue to be so.

COMMISSIONER BRADSHAW'S DISTRICT 4 OFFICE RETURNED $127,160.00 TO THE GENERAL FUND BETWEEN FY 2022-2023.

YEAR IN OFFICE	RETURNED TO GENERAL FUND
2017	$80,332.00
2018	$80,183.00
2019	$68,970.00
2020	$74,127.00
2021	$44,130.00
2022	$48,057.00
2023	$79,103.00
TOTAL	$477,902.00

WHAT IS THE GENERAL FUND?

In unincorporated and incorporated areas of DeKalb county, the general fund pays for county-wide services such as the courts, Sheriff's Office, Tax Commissioner, Chief Executive Officer, Board of Commissioners and administrative departments like the Law Department and Human Resources. In short, the general fund supports county operations.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

County commissioners play a crucial role in economic development at the local level. Economic development is a combination of policy-making, infrastructure planning, community engagement, and collaboration with various stakeholders to create a conducive environment for business growth and prosperity in the county.

INTRODUCED LEGISLATION TO IMPLEMENT REGULATIONS TO ALLOW PUBLIC PRIVATE PARTNERSHIPS IN DEKALB

Public Private Partnerships can provide benefits to local governments including a more cost-effective process for constructing infrastructure and delivering services that meet a public purpose or need, more flexible financing options for the County and fostering more innovative solutions for public needs by inviting creative input from private entities that are otherwise external to local government processes. DeKalb County has received unsolicited P3 proposals in the past and been unable to consider and act on said proposals as State law requires the adoption of a local rule, regulation or ordinance governing P3 agreements.

Upon passage, this ordinance will provide DeKalb County with another important tool in our overall economic development toolkit and afford us potential access to additional high quality development opportunities.

DEKALB 2023 BUDGET INCLUDED $100,000 FOR THE DEKALB CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The DeKalb Chamber of Commerce used the funding to initiate the Chamber’s Small Business Recovery Program. Funding helps small business owners with the essentials critical to maintaining a small business in DeKalb County, many of which are in industries still recovering from the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic and the three-year disruption in the operational balance of conducting business – compounded by additional challenges of current inflation rates and the acquisition of affordable capital for ongoing business needs. These businesses and industries benefit from the opportunity to connect and access resources to help with resilience planning, contracting, and workforce development.

“ Thank you, Commissioner Bradshaw and DeKalb County, for your continued support of the DeKalb Chamber of Commerce. We are very thankful for the opportunity to partner with your office and the county to initiate a program that will grow to provide the essentials critical to maintaining a small business in DeKalb County. By including the $100,000 allocation in the 2023 budget, our elected leaders are making a statement to the region that the success of our small business community is paramount to the economic vitality of DeKalb County. ”

Frankie Atwater, Sr.
President and CEO
The DeKalb Chamber of Commerce

“ I have long held the view that DeKalb County should provide regular financial support to our Chamber of Commerce. When I chaired the COVID-19 Small Business Task Force, I recall that some CARES Act money was allocated to support some Chamber programs during that time, and it made sense to me that sustainable funding from DeKalb County Government was needed to help our Chamber support small businesses on behalf of the County. ”

MEMORIAL DRIVE

Revitalizing Memorial Drive in DeKalb County is crucial for fostering economic growth, enhancing community engagement, and creating a vibrant urban landscape. The effort involves improving infrastructure, beautifying public spaces, and supporting local businesses, serving as a catalyst for community pride. Additionally, the project can preserve the area's historical and cultural heritage, making it a collective investment in the well-being and prosperity of the entire community. The revitalization of Memorial Drive remains the top priority of my second term in office.

MEMORIAL DRIVE COMMUNITY REBRANDING INITIATIVE

Commissioner Bradshaw, in partnership with Houser Walker Architecture, the DeKalb County Department of Planning and Sustainability, and the Department of Community Development, hosted a public meeting to present finalists for both the logo and branding efforts.

Originating from the Memorial Drive Revitalization Corridor Plan, The Memorial Drive Community Rebranding Initiative began in 2019 and was adopted by the Board of Commissioners in 2020. The study recommended rebranding the corridor to help change the public perception of the area and give the area an identity and sense of place.

Commissioner Steve Bradshaw discusses the Memorial Drive Revitalization Corridor Plan and how county officials are working with community leaders and businesses owners.

W.A.B.E. Closer Look with Rose Scott. July 31, 2023.

It's important to me to keep the public involved in the revitalization efforts of Memorial Drive. These meetings are a reminder that we're in the foxhole together as we work on the revitalization of the corridor.

MEMORIAL DRIVE COMMUNITY IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT

A Community Improvement District (CID) provide a means to address needs for governmental services and facilities that may be necessary in high-growth, high-intensity, nonresidential areas. In collaboration with the DeKalb Chamber of Commerce, we’re embarking on the administrative setup of a CID for the Memorial Drive corridor. District 4 submitted the proposal in the fall of 2023, and our target launch is May 2025. Throughout this process we have engaged with property owners along the corridor, successfully garnering support for the CID. Groundwork leading to this point was accomplished in 2022, demonstrating the culmination of concerted efforts to advance this community-enhancing endeavor.

DEVELOPING AFFORDABLE HOUSING, EXPANDED TRANSIT, AND RECREATION ALONG MEMORIAL DRIVE

Since the inception of the revitalization of Memorial Drive, I have regarded the area around the Kensington MARTA station as a catalyst to unlocking the full potential of the corridor.

On June 9, 2021, I attended a groundbreaking ceremony for Phoenix Station, 244 units of quality affordable housing across from the Kensington MARTA Station. Quality affordable housing is a critical need in DeKalb County and this development is a step toward fulfilling that need while enhancing the area.

The DeKalb County Housing Authority began construction on the Kensington Point project in early 2022. The development includes a 130-unit senior living property, a 120-unit family property, and 30,000 square feet of office space including the DeKalb Housing Authority headquarters.

COMMUNICATION & ACCESSIBILITY

Effective communication and accessibility are crucial in informing people and groups affected by or interested in the decisions and actions of an entity, such as a government or political representatives. By keeping constituents informed, we can build trust, promote civic engagement, ensure accountability, and make better decisions that reflect the diverse needs and concerns of those we serve.

QUARTERLY IN THE FOURTH MEETINGS ENCOURAGE TRANSPARENCY AND CONSTITUENT CONNECTIONS

Today, the $9.3 million, 29,835-square-foot recreation center offers intergenerational programming and includes a library, multipurpose rooms, administrative offices, a multipurpose court, gymnasium, and track.

INVESTING IN YOUTH

Investing in youth development programs for underserved and underrepresented youth is not only a moral imperative but also a strategic move for local government – leading to more robust and resilient communities, reducing social & economic disparities, and creating a brighter future for all of our residents. By providing families with these opportunities, District 4 and DeKalb County can build a more inclusive and prosperous future.

BIG BROTHERS BIG SISTERS: 50 MEN TO MENTORS

The Big Brothers Big Sisters 50 Men to Mentors campaign was officially kicked off in partnership with Commissioner Bradshaw in January of 2023 at District 4's first Quarterly in the Fourth Community Breakfast meeting of the year.

THE CHALLENGE: In DeKalb there were not enough Men (Bigs) signing up to serve as mentors to boys (Littles). We needed to help fill the gap and find at least 50 Men!

THE SOLUTION: Big Brothers and Big Sisters partnered with Commissioner Bradshaw to get the word out and encourage participation. To further facilitate this effort, the application and qualification process were expedited, cutting approval time down from one year to 3 months.

In addition to assisting in the marketing and recruiting efforts of Big Brothers Big Sisters of Metro Atlanta, Commissioner Steve Bradshaw's office allocated $75,000, and then another $50,000 to support the organization's ongoing mission.

ADDITIONAL INVESTMENTS IN YOUTH

- Saturday, July 16, Commissioner Bradshaw and others hosted a 2nd Annual Back-to-School event with backpack giveaways, health screenings and gift cards for individuals receiving a COVID-19 vaccination.

- Participated with DeKalb County Youth Commissioners. Facilitated by department of human services youth division, teens volunteer to learn the roles of county government, participate in civic and community activities, and represent the views of DeKalb County youth.

COMMISSIONER BRADSHAW ANNOUNCES THE KICKOFF OF R.I.S.E. UP PROGRAM 2023 SUMMER COHORT OF YOUNG BOYS OF COLOR

Since October 2019, Commissioner Bradshaw's office has allocated $95,000 to R.I.S.E. UP, a Young Men's Leadership Development Program serving boys and young men of color residing in District 4.

100 youth have graduated from the program, which employs S.T.E.M. to foster leadership and positive identity development for young boys.

R.I.S.E. UP added a high school cohort of fifteen mentees this programming year, and Dr. Kinnis Gosha, the lead facilitator since 2019, incorporated 13 Morehouse College student mentor positions into the eight week program.

R.I.S.E. UP is an amazing program to persuade, guide, and push our young boys to be the best they can to be successful in this world.

We often think of our boys' success as something internal to some individuals - their innate drive, grit, or brilliance. However, this program shows that the connection between the students and other successful college men is vital. Confidence and motivation to persist come from high-quality peer relationships within an academic environment, especially with mentors who share a common identity. I'm so appreciative of this R.I.S.E. UP program.

By addressing a wide range of physical, mental, and social needs, these services contribute to building a strong, vibrant, and resilient community.

COMMISSIONER BRADSHAW SERVED AS VICE CHAIR OF THE DEKALB COUNTY BOARD OF HEALTH

As the COVID-19 pandemic further revealed the insecurity of many citizens and local nonprofit agencies, DeKalb County CEO Michael Thurmond appointed Commissioner Bradshaw to serve on the DeKalb Board of Health as vice chair from 2021 through September 2023.

It has been an honor for me to serve on this prestigious board. I have learned a lot from truly outstanding people that I have had the great fortune of getting to know.

DeKalb County Public Health is grateful for Commissioner Bradshaw's funding allocations as well as his continued support and investment in our public health programs and services. We look forward to investing these funds to support our ongoing COVID-19 prevention and mitigation efforts

Sandra J. Valenciano, M.D., M.P.H.

Commissioner Bradshaw secured an allocation of $150,000, or $75,000 each for the DeKalb Community Service Board (now Claratel Behavioral Health) and the DeKalb Board of Health (now DeKalb Public Health) to assist their respective work in public health and substance abuse treatment. The aid comes from District 4 American Rescue Plan (ARP) funding.

These agencies provide critical medical and behavioral health services to underrepresented and underserved individuals. Both organizations continue to play a critical role partnering with me to address prevailing societal issues. I am happy to be able to allocate funding to assist these organizations. I have tremendous respect for the good work they execute in serving individuals in the community and providing resources to help with their immediate needs.

WADE WALKER YMCA HONORS COMMISSIONER BRADSHAW AT FOOD PANTRY RIBBON-CUTTING AND NAMING EVENT

Commissioner Bradshaw with DeKalb Wade Walker YMCA staff and Executive Director Lorna Loh at the newly named Stephen R. Bradshaw Community Pantry

Steve Bradshaw allocated $50,000 of 2020 CARES ACT and another $50,000 of 2021 American Rescue Plan funding to Wade Walker YMCA to support individuals and families impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. The ribbon cutting took place in September of 2022.

Wade Walker YMCA provided more than 22,836 meals and 18,895 grocery boxes to DeKalb County residents in 2020 and 2021. In 2022, Wade Walker YMCA shifted its hunger relief program to a food pantry onsite. This new high quality food pantry is equipped with refrigeration, freezer space and shelving.

It is because of his generous support that we fulfilled this dream of having a pantry that will serve any one in need in our community, as such it is our distinct privilege to dedicate and name this food pantry in honor of Commissioner Steve Bradshaw.

Lorna Loh, Executive Director, Wade Walker YMCA

I am a strong supporter of the work of the YMCAs in our communities, and that is why I allocated funds to both the Wade Walker YMCA in Stone Mountain and the Decatur YMCA. None of this is about me. It is about all the people that this wonderful facility has helped and will continue to help. I commend the leadership and staff of the Wade Walker YMCA for their heroic efforts on this front. The naming of the food pantry in my honor is not anything that I sought or expected. Therefore, I am deeply humbled and honored by this recognition.

INFRASTRUCTURE / SPLOST

Infrastructure is the backbone of DeKalb County, supporting economic development, education, public health, safety, and overall community well-being. A well-maintained and forward-thinking infrastructure system contributes to the county's resilience, attractiveness to businesses, and the overall satisfaction of its residents.

A Special-purpose local-option sales tax (SPLOST) is an important mechanism for funding county improvements because it provides a dedicated source of revenue for specific projects that benefit the local community. SPLOST is typically a temporary sales tax that is levied for a specified period, and the funds generated are earmarked for specific capital projects and infrastructure improvements.

YOUR PENNIES AT WORK: RESIDENTIAL TRAFFIC CALMING

Commissioner Steve Bradshaw is committed to the safety of constituents living, working, and playing in DeKalb county. The District 4 Office is engaged in traffic calming interventions to keep constituents, pedestrians, and motorists out of harm's way.

DeKalb County developed a Traffic Calming Program to address the concerns of the citizens regarding the speed of traffic on residential streets. For a street to be eligible for the traffic calming program, it must be classified as local residential on the DeKalb County Functional Classification Map and have a posted speed limit of 30 mph or less. For more information, please call 770-492-5219, e-mail PWTransportation@dekalbcountyga.gov, or visit dekalbcountyga.gov/transportation/traffic-calming-program

SPLOST-funded improvements made to the sidewalks at North Druid Hill Road and Valley Brook Road. Work is underway to transform the corridor into a multimodal-friendly complete street supporting various uses.

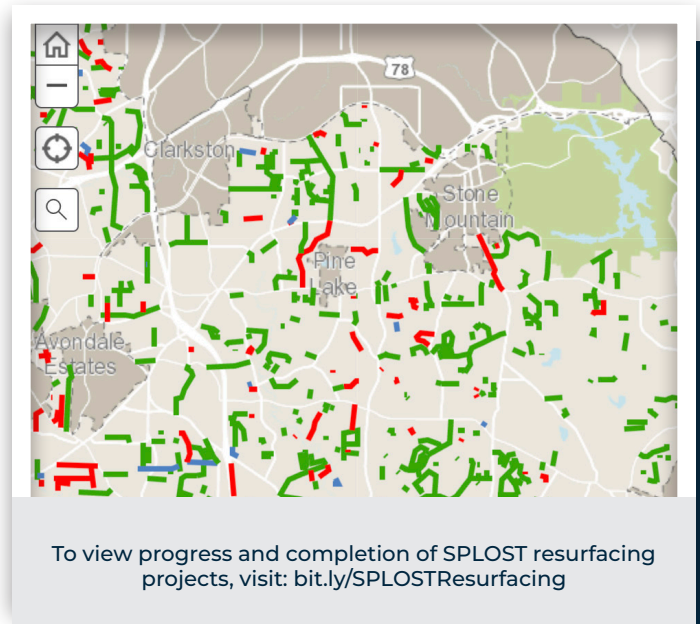

The first community meeting in May heard several concerns from residents and drivers. Top traffic concerns were congestion in the corridor, speeding, and safety. Our goal is to improve major intersections from an operations standpoint, reduce crashes, and increase pedestrian safety.

SPLOST: SPECIAL-PURPOSE LOCAL-OPTION SALES TAX

DeKalb County SPLOST supports county-wide improvements promoting added value to DeKalb County and improved quality of life for all residents and all stakeholders.

Voters adopted the current SPLOST in a referendum in November 2017, and runs from 2018 until 2024. During these six years, SPLOST expects to generate $636 million for capital improvements for the county and city governments in DeKalb County. This one-cent sales tax provides funding exclusively for capital projects – roads, buildings, vehicles, major equipment, and other long-lived improvements. Because of the success of the current SPLOST, I support continuing to hear about constituent ideas and priorities for capital improvements and quality-of-life enhancements in DeKalb County.

PUBLIC SAFETY: FRONT LINE

Public safety is a collaborative effort involving government, nonprofits, and community organizations. STARTING SALARY BOOST IN FY2023 BUDGET SOLIDIFIES DEKALB POLICE AND FIRE AS AMONG THE HIGHEST PAID IN THE SOUTHEAST

The DeKalb County FY2023 budget, which includes $4.3 million to raise the starting salaries for police and fire recruits and provide increases for veteran public safety personnel, was passed by the DeKalb County Board of Commissioners. This salary boost maintains DeKalb's status as one of the highest-paid police and fire recruits among large local governments in the Southeast and the state, respectively.

As of April 1, 2023, the starting salary for new police recruits is $55,000, an 8.9% increase over the previous $50,500 – and is 19% above the regional market average of $46,352. The starting firefighter salary is $51,000, a 9.7% increase over the previous $46,500 – approximately 9.1% above the local market average of $46,728 for Atlanta, South Fulton, Cobb, and Gwinnett counties.

DeKalb County Community Service Aides respond to low-level calls like theft, traffic hazards, burglaries, car break-ins, vandalism, harassment, animal complaints, and directing traffic. Chief Ramos said the department receives about 30,000 calls a month, with more than 2,300 considered low-level calls.

It is safe to say we use Flock daily in almost every case, whether it's a missing person, stolen vehicle, assault, hit and run, etc. FLOCK has been a precious investigative tool for our department.

Detectives can utilize the FLOCK cameras in investigations to leverage technology and allow for cameras to capture vehicle images in the area of a reported crime / overdue motorist / missing person case and for investigative follow-up or immediate dissemination.

We recently had a rash of auto theft subjects striking across Metro Atlanta. By utilizing FLOCK, we were able to track and arrest 22 suspects. In addition, please see a recent local media story about a homicide arrest made possible by FLOCK. Visit bit.ly/FLOCKTagArrest

Mirtha V. Ramos, Chief DeKalb County Police Department

Commissioner Steve Bradshaw was the first county commissioner to invest in FLOCK in DeKalb County in 2020.

Today, the use of FLOCK is considered a best practice in improving public safety throughout district 4 and DeKalb county.

On December 5, 2023, Police Chief Ramos reported that DeKalb County has a total of 371 FLOCK cameras in place and expects to install an additional 60+ throughout high-priority areas of DeKalb in 2024.

I personally appreciate the emphasis in the 2023 budget on public safety, which, in my opinion, is the first responsibility of any government.

The DUI Court program, started by Judge Alvin T. Wong and Judge Tony DelCampo in 2004, addresses substance abuse and addiction issues while teaching participants to take responsibility for their actions. The mission of the DUI Court Program is to enhance public safety by reducing recidivism of DUI offenders by breaking the cycle of addiction through a combination of individualized treatment, personal accountability, and intensive court supervision. The Council for Accountability Court Judges named the DUI Court Program a model court from 2020 to 2023. As of Thursday, Jan. 19, 1,053 participants have graduated from the program.

Over the course of my time in office I have been a big supporter of our accountability courts as evidenced by over $100,000 in discretionary allocations from my district 4 budget. I want to commend and thank all the judges and support staff who work so hard to make this vital component of criminal justice reform work so effectively.
