DeKalb Commissioner Steve Bradshaw Announces Good Neighbors Day Out Event

DECATUR, Ga. - District 4 Commissioner Steve Bradshaw and the East Memorial Drive Revitalization Foundation (EMDRF) invite the public to the Good Neighbors Day Out event on Saturday, Sept. 30, 2023, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., at Memorial Square, 5479 Memorial Drive, Stone Mountain.

“Today I attended The East Memorial Drive Revitalization Foundation’s ribbon-cutting event for the opening of their office. It is an important milestone in the revitalization of the corridor,” said Commissioner Bradshaw. “The leadership of Shanta Lana Hereford, Chair of the East Memorial Drive Revitalization Community Action Group and committee members have done an amazing job getting us to this point.”

DeKalb County's Good Neighbors Day Out on East Memorial Drive will be a fun day with DJ entertainment and live performances, vendors showcasing local talent and products, special guest appearances from community leaders and officials, food trucks, fun and free family activities.

“These events are not just about celebration; they are about the power of unity, community engagement, and the belief that, together, we can create a brighter future for East Memorial Drive and its surrounding areas,” said H.E. Shanta Lana Hereford, president, East Memorial Drive Revitalization Foundation and chair of the East Memorial Drive Revitalization Community Action Group <https://eastmemorialdrive.org>.

Commissioner Bradshaw allocated $50,000 of his District 4 reserve for appropriation funds to DeKalb County Community Action Groups to access grants up to $10,000 per group. Community Action Groups were formed from a Memorial Drive Revitalization Study recommendation to support revitalization initiatives along the corridor.
